CDBG Disaster Recovery Assistance

Summary

HUD provides flexible grants to help cities, counties, and States recover from Presidentially declared disasters, especially in low-income areas, subject to availability of supplemental appropriations.

Purpose:

In response to disasters, Congress may appropriate additional funding for the CDBG and HOME programs as Disaster Recovery grants to rebuild the affected areas and provide crucial seed money to start the recovery process. Since CDBG Disaster Recovery assistance may be awarded to applicant agencies (such as State and local governments) that declare a disaster as eligible, and provides assistance to the disaster-related needs of the area, it is critical to ensure that the funds are used for the intended purposes and that the recipients are held accountable for the outcomes.

Training

The Disaster Recovery CDBG Administration Training will be held 17-19 February, 2010, in Houston, Texas. Invitations will be sent out to states/local governments who are eligible to participate. Hotel rooms have been reserved for participants. There is no charge to attend the training however, participants will be responsible for transportation and lodging. More information and registration.
seed money to start the recovery process. Since CDBG Disaster Recovery assistance may fund a broad range of recovery activities, HUD can help communities and neighborhoods that otherwise might not recover due to limited resources. Disaster Recovery grants often supplement disaster programs of the Federal Emergency Management Agency, the Small Business Administration, and the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers. In addition, HOME Disaster Recovery grants can provide an important resource for providing affordable housing to disaster victims.

Type of Assistance

HUD generally awards noncompetitive, nonrecurring Disaster Recovery grants by a formula that considers disaster recovery needs unmet by other Federal disaster assistance programs.

Eligible Grantees

CDBG Disaster Recovery funds are made available to States, units of general local governments, Indian tribes, and Insular areas designated by the President of the United States as disaster areas. These communities must have significant unmet recovery needs and the capacity to carry out a disaster recovery program (usually these are governments that already receive HOME or Community Development Block Grant allocations). At times, supplemental appropriations restrict funding solely to States rather than the local cities and/or counties.

Eligible Customers

CDBG Disaster Recovery grants primarily benefit low-income residents in and around communities that have experienced a natural disaster. Generally, grantees must use at least half of Disaster Recovery funds for activities that principally benefit low- and moderate-income persons. These can be either activities in which all or the majority of people who benefit have low or moderate incomes or activities that benefit an area or service group in which at least 51 percent of the populous are of low- and moderate-income.
Eligible Activities

Grantees may use CDBG Disaster Recovery funds for recovery efforts involving housing, economic development, infrastructure and prevention of further damage to affected areas, if such use does not duplicate funding available from the Federal Emergency Management Agency, the Small Business Administration, and the US Army Corps of Engineers.

Examples of these activities include:

1. buying damaged properties in a flood plain and relocating residents to safer areas;
2. relocation payments for people and businesses displaced by the disaster;
3. debris removal not covered by FEMA;
4. rehabilitation of homes and buildings damaged by the disaster;
5. buying, constructing, or rehabilitating public facilities such as streets, neighborhood centers, and water, sewer and drainage systems;
6. code enforcement;
7. homeownership activities such as down payment assistance, interest rate subsidies and loan guarantees for disaster victims;
8. public services (generally limited to no more than 15 percent of the grant);
9. helping businesses retain or create jobs in disaster impacted areas; and
10. planning and administration costs (limited to no more than 20 percent of the grant).

National Objectives

Eligible activities must meet at least one of three program national objectives: benefit persons of low and moderate income, aid in the prevention or elimination of slums or blight, or meet other urgent community development needs because existing conditions pose a serious and immediate threat to the health and welfare of the community where other financial resources are not available.

Application

HUD notifies eligible governments that must then develop and submit an Action Plan for Disaster Recovery before receiving CDBG Disaster Recovery grants. The Action Plan describes the recovery activities intended under the grant.
Funding Status

Congress appropriated the following CDBG Disaster Recovery Funding:

- FY 2008 - $6.5 billion to assist victims of Hurricanes Ike and Gustav and victims of the midwest floods

Hurricane Rita: 1st Supplemental CDBG Disaster Recovery Funding

Background and Funding

On December 30, 2005, President Bush signed legislation (HR 2863) providing $11.5 billion in disaster relief to five Gulf Coast states. Through continued meetings since HR 2863 was signed, the state of Texas has identified over $1.5 billion in needed repairs related directly to Hurricane Rita. On January 25, 2006, HUD Secretary Alphonso J. Jackson announced HUD’s plan to allocate the $11.5 billion in disaster funding for areas impacted by Hurricanes Katrina, Rita, and Wilma. Emergency funding is provided through HUD’s Community Development Block Grant Program to specifically assist Louisiana, Mississippi, Florida, Alabama, and Texas in their long-term recovery efforts.

Secretary Jackson announced the following allocation among the five impacted states:

JPD Grant Program Complaints: CDBG, HOME, Section 108 & Disaster Recovery CDBG

HUD’s Office of Community Planning and Development (CPD) provides, Community Development Block Grants (CDBG), HOME Program, Section 108 loans, and the Disaster Recovery CDBG to state and local agencies to meet local housing and community development needs. Under these programs, state and local governments may undertake projects and provide services directly or they may provide grant funds to sub recipient organizations to administer projects and services.

State or local governments receiving funds under these programs are required to have a system to handle grant program complaints concerning their proposed activities and program operations. The following links includes contacts for these CPD Programs and information about each grantee’s proposed activities and accomplishments under their grant programs:

- Local Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) contacts
- Local HOME Contacts
- Local Disaster Recovery CDBG contacts

When a local CPD office receives a complaint about a grantee, it is forwarded to the grantee for response. In these cases, the local CPD office will review the grantee’s response for adequacy. If you still have questions and concerns about a grantee’s performance after receiving a response from their staff you can contact the Local CPD Office for further follow-up:

When HUD receives complaints about civil rights violations about grant programs, these are handled by the Offices of Fair Housing and Equal Opportunity (FHEO). CDBG Disaster Recovery Compliance Training

HUD conducted CDBG Disaster Recovery program compliance training in New Orleans on April 23-24, 2008. This training consisted of a series of sessions on topics of interest to grantees receiving CDBG Disaster Recovery funds. Presenters included HUD staff and grantees from the 9/11 and Gulf Coast hurricane recovery efforts.

The following is a list of sessions from the training. Each links to a page containing presentation information, including videos of many, of the sessions, as well as other resources to assist in understanding the subject areas.

Disaster Recovery Grant Reporting System

The Disaster Recovery Grant Reporting system was developed by HUD’s Office of Community Planning and Development for the Disaster Recovery CDBG program and other special appropriations. Data from the system is used by HUD staff to review activities funded under these programs and for required quarterly reports to Congress.

The system was developed for grantees to identify activities funded under their Action Plans and Amendments along with budgets and performance goals for those activities. Once an Action Plan is submitted and approved, grantees can submit quarterly reports summarizing obligation, expenditures, drawdowns, and accomplishments for all their activities.

SYSTEM UPDATE: A new version of DRGR was released in mid-July of 2009 (Version 6.4) that includes a reports module. A draft user guide is posted below along with a document highlighting the new features of this release and an updated FAQ.

As part of the release, DRGR has become one of the HUD single sign-on systems and the management of User ID/password assignments and password resets is being moved to the main HUD help desk. If you are an existing DRGR user that is having difficulty logging in under Release 6.4, please see the new procedures below under the section ‘Existing Users with Login Problems.’
The following links and resources are available for accessing the DRGR system:

- Access the DRGR System
- New Features For DRGR Release 6.4 - July 2009
- DRGR Release 6.4 Reports Module Draft User Guide
- DRGR Frequently Asked Questions - With NSP Updates (Updated July 2, 2009)
- DRGR Training (FLASH)
- DRGR Training Powerpoint Slides (PDF)
- DRGR Training Powerpoint Slides with Notes (PDF)
- Access DRGR System Help Files
- Draft Guide for DRGR Drawdown Module - Release 6.3 (PDF)
- Request a DRGR Account

New Field Office Users: New HUD users in DRGR must have their supervisor submit a CHAMPS request to add DRGR to their systems profile. CHAMPS can be accessed at http://useraccess.hud.gov. After ADP Security confirms that this has been completed, supervisors should send an email message to DRGR_Help@hud.gov requesting DRGR access for their employee(s). They should include the following in the message for each user account request:

  - Full name
  - "H" number
  - Field Office
  - Address
Direct access field staff will review the request for accuracy and completeness and forward it to Send an email message to DRGR_Help@hud.gov. The grantee will include the following in the message:

- Full name of user
- Grantee Name
- C# assigned for IDIS User ID (if current IDIS user)
- Address
- Phone number with extension
- Fax number
- Email address
- Whether you will be the primary DRGR system administrator for your community
- Whether you are authorized to request or to approve drawdowns
- Five digits you can always remember for your PIN (which will be used by the HUD help desk for help tickets)

- Existing Users with Login Problems or Forgot DRGR Username or Password: As part of the transition to Release 6.4, the management of password assignments and resets is being moved from DRGR_Help@hud.gov to the main HUD help desk. The following ID and passwords have been applied as part of this transition: 1) HUD users should be able to use the ID and password they use to log in their workstation; 2) Grantee users with IDIS accounts we could match should be able to use their IDIS C# and password; and 3) grantee users without IDIS accounts were re-assigned to B IDs and temporary passwords and system-generated PINS were emailed July 17. List of grantee user IDs and system roles are now included in the REPORTS module of DRGR.

 Under Release 6.4, if any DRGR users have difficulty accessing DRGR because of login ID or password problems they must now contact the main HUD Help Desk at 1-888-297-8689 (Option 9). The HUD help desk is the main point of contact for password resets. If you have problems working with any modules or screens in DRGR, users can send an email to DRGR_Help@hud.gov. If you try to log onto DRGR and get the error message ‘User is still logged into system’ for more than 30 minutes please contact DRGR_Help@hud.gov and ask for a session reset. ***
