

If the shelter, Safe Haven, or Transitional Housing project already collects all the required information from clients, HMIS data or project-level surveys may be used. If the project does not collect information from clients, client-level surveys should be administered with project residents to gather information required for the PIT count. Example project- and client-level surveys are available on the HUD Exchange.